CHROMEBOOK TAKE HOME EXPECTATIONS- STUDENT

You have had a Chromebook checked out in your name.
You can also take this Chromebook to and from school as needed for schoolwork.
However, this also means that you are responsible for taking care of your device.

Here is a guide that shows you parts of the Chromebook, which also includes how to take care of it. Chromebook Tutorial for Students and Parents

Ways you are responsible for the device:

Keep it clean, literally! Talk to your teacher or parent about how to clean your device to keep it in good condition or look at the guide.

- Do not keep drinks close to your Chromebook. A spill can ruin the device!
- Do not eat over your device - crumbs, sauce, and food bits, oh my!
- Use clean hands - Greasy, wet or dirty hands will make your Chromebook dirty or could damage it. Besides, wash your hands anyway! :)
- Do not add stickers to your device- You do not own the device; you are using it.

Keep track of your device and power cord.

- Do not misplace your Chromebook at home or at school. There is no guarantee that there will be another one at school for you to use.
- Talk to your teacher about other classroom Chromebook expectations or rules if you are taking your Chromebook back and forth to school.

Charge your Chromebook every day.

- You will be responsible to make sure your Chromebook is plugged in and charged at school or at home the night before for the next school day.

This device is for you, not other people and for school purposes.

- You can only use your psdkids.net account on this device.
- This device is not for gaming or any purpose except those assigned by your teacher.
- You can access Google Apps and other apps, websites, and programs that your teacher assigns for schoolwork and homework.
- Your teacher and the district staff can see every site you visit online when you are logged into your @psdkids.net account. Pro tip: if you think they wouldn't approve, don't go there.
